My Dear Debora

Though you are not an Opressor, I write to you on this paper because I had no others in the house. I wish very much that you were going to be here the 25. Theodore D Weld is not much expected to be here on account of his health, but Henry Stanton Mr Mary Amos Dresser and Mr Towns we are sure of. speaking of Mr Town, he has hold a call to be pastor of Bennet Street church, and has accepted it. On the 26 we intend that is the Ladies intend to hold a meeting in the afternoon, and have two or three speeches. it is to be held at the Artists Gallery, in Summer Street. Notices have been sent round to every church in the city of the Ladies meeting, Emma went to Mr Pierpont's meeting it was not read there, Caroline went down to Maria's to spend the evening, and she came home very full the Massachusetts Society had concluded to meet in the loft over the stable's of the Marlborough Hotel that is to say it meets in a barn, but in the evening it meets in the "Representatives Hall," dont you the abolitionists may hold up their heads, and as Henry Stanton said to one of the meeting, when Boston votes she gives us a stable when the commonwealth votes she gives us the State House. there there was tremendous clapping. at the meeting at the State House Stanton was cheered three times the hall was crowded it was thought that there were as many as 6 thousand persons present. Orang Scott was the first person that spoke, he spoke very well, after him Ellis Gray Loring spoke and did finely, and then Henry Stanton it happened that Dressers name was mentioned and so the audience would have him speak although he was sick, he told his story, which by the way is all that he can do in the way of speaking then Stanton got up and after that the house was one con-meeting closed at ten o'clock and I come home pretty tired as you may well suppose. Thursday 26. Went to the stable at nine o'clock and had a fine time Moses Thatcher Mr Johnson Henry Stanton Mr Russel who made a very fine speech and Mr Mary Ann Terry pledged three hundred dollars and the Ladies Society one hundred and our Juvinile Society 10 dollars we did not pledge much for we intend to pledge considerable at the May convention. you may tele this to Charlotte. I am the President of the Society we were counting up the number of officers in the whole family and we thought we made a goodly array, Maria Caroline Diana Seestoney's and also Lycretia Aunt Mary Vice President Henry Treasurer, and though last not least President. In the afternoon we all went down to the Actuals Gallery where the Ladies held their meeting, the speakers were Henry Stanton Amos Dresser and Mr Mary the Hall was very full and we had a very good time and they got many new members. In the evening Maria had a how wow all the brethren were there including the sisters brother May said at one of the meeting the the women of the Society were the most efficient brethren and the men their work and less and less efficient sisters. This was adopted. we received your letters that afternoon at the meeting and felt deeply for you you can't tell how much you have lost. Theodore has fallen desperately in love with Dresser who is the prettiest little thing that you ever saw, and he is so so good he is almost in Hoswell. Friday 27. Went to another meeting which was held at forty Six. the meeting principally related to obtaining funds for the Liberator. Mr St Clair Robert Hall Garrison Mr Mary Stanton Dresser and all the brethren spoke and we had a fine time. you will see some extracts of Garrisons report in the Liberator it is very fine and he read it most beautifully. In the afternoon no meeting it seems very curious in the evening we had a pow wow every body was here excepting brother Mary and Stanton Mrs Child was here and stayed all night. Sunday I went and heard Mr Smith all day, and into the afternoon he had the grace to pray for the Slaves which he very rarely does Amos Dresser was here and Stanton and Garrison. Caroline and Henry and little Henry all rode down to Weymouth and there Caroline heard that Lizzy was about being converted she found up in the back chamber a little book called the wonderful conversion of Sally Brown she made out to spell it out and after she had read it she came to me in tears and told her she wanted dreadfully to be converted like Sally Brown. we think she is in your little hopeful way. Monday. I never knew such walking in my life it is truely awful. Aunt Mary is quite sick hardly able to sit up. In the evening we all went including Mary Ann to the Monthly concert it was a fine one notwithstanding Potter conducted it. I thought more than twenty times of "Lord when we pray in coming into the presence of an earthly monarch how much more into the presence of an heavenly one" he went on exactly the same way Stanton spoke and Garrison. Tuesday. Nothing particular happened. in the evening Kilbreth came and staid till nearly eleven. he said he was going to live in Town. Caroline introduced the subject of the book he listened very red and for a wonder was very much confused he made out to say that the book showed some talent, but that the man was a fool to write in the present state of excitement beat it you as evident as could be all about it. I have got in my stories as far in the Promises as the bio Demeter, and in the fables to the stag and the wild boar. My letter I suppose will be very dull for Anne has written all in her last letter to you but I have discharged my conscience from writing I hope you will write to me soon. Emma sends her love to you and Lucretia. you may give my love to Charlotte. yours very truly
